

AMERICAN GARDEN AWARD

WHAT IS THE AMERICAN GARDEN AWARD?

The American Garden Award is a unique opportunity for the gardening public to vote on a specific flower or plant that they think has the most appealing garden characteristics.

Never before has an entire nation of flower enthusiasts had the chance to let their voice be heard when choosing their favorite garden flower in one nation-wide competition.

Some of the world's most prominent flower breeders have chosen their best varieties for this competition. Only twenty-four prestigious public gardens in the United States were chosen to collaborate with All-America Selections to present the six entries/contestants for the 2012 competition. In our area, the garden where you can view the entries is [insert public garden name here]. There, you can view the plants in person, then vote on your favorite. There are three ways to vote:

1. Text your vote using the codes on each variety sign in the AGA display garden.
2. Go to www.americangardenaward.org and click on your favorite.
3. Use the postcards provided by AAS/AGA and found in the AGA display garden.

Voting will be open from June 1st through August 31st. Winners will be announced in early September.

Some of those six entries, along with some of the winners from the 2009, 2010 and 2011 contests are available for purchase at this garden center. Ask for them by name!

The American Garden Award program is administered by the All-America Selections® Display Garden program. AGA entries have not been trialed nor awarded a winner status by the AAS® Trial Judges.
